RUN 7, 19 TO 46°C, 4-6 JULY 1971

Soak time 49 hours

Test Synopsis:

This run presents data for an extended 49-hour soak and shows aircraft temperatures in a static condition with all doors, windows, and ramps closed. The free air temperatures, solar radiation, and resultant aircraft temperatures are typical for this desert test phase. The free air temperature presented with the digital data (column 1-04) is taken from a probe on the aircraft and is affected by the aircraft mass temperature for this static condition in that it lags changes in the ambient air temperature. The temperatures shown in the event sheet are taken from a mast placed in front of the aircraft (but separated from it), and are more representative of the actual ambient air temperature.

Test parameters not connected or not presented.

Only selected pertinent temperature parameters are presented. Parameters such as engine and rotor rpm, hydraulic and oil pressures are not pertinent and are not presented.
