DR. RICHARD SOLOMON*

8:30 am - 9:15 am (invited)

Richard Solomon has been president of the United States Institute of Peace since 1993. Prior to this assignment, he was assistant secretary of state for East Asian and Pacific affairs from 1989 to 1992. He negotiated the Cambodia peace treaty, the first United Nations "Permanent Five" peacemaking agreement; and had a leading role in the dialogue on nuclear issues between the United States and South and North Korea. In 1992-93, Solomon served as U.S. ambassador to the Philippines.

DR. WILLIAM SCHNEIDER

12:30 pm - 1:45 pm

Dr. Schneider's responsibilities in the Department of State included management of U.S. foreign economic and military assistance abroad, export control policy (including serving as Chairman of the Senior Interagency Group on the Transfer of Strategic Technology), international telecommunications and information policy (including serving as Chairman of the Senior Interagency Group on International Telecommunications and Information Policy) and supervision of U.S. science attaches posted at U.S. embassies abroad.

ADM ERIC OLSON, USN

3:45 pm - 4:30 pm

Olson graduated from the Naval Academy in 1973 and completed SEAL training in 1974. For the next two decades, he served in a variety of military assignments, many of them overseas, until 1994 when he became commander of the Naval Special Warfare Development Group, an American counter-terrorism unit. Olson was promoted again in 1999 when he assumed command of Naval Special Warfare Command in Coronado, California. He assumed his current assignment on 9 July 2007.

 - ◆ The Problem is Simple
 - ◆ “Let’s Not Make This Difficult”
 - ◆ The Great Truth
 - ◆ Afghanistan

◆ PREMISE 1: “You can’t have unity of effort without unity of vision”

◆ Blind men describing an elephant:

- ◆ Each is correct;
- ◆ But none are completely correct;
- ◆ None can understand what the others describe;
- ◆ All are necessary to get it right!

PREMISE 1 (extended): “You can’t have unity of effort without unity of vision, and you can’t have unity of vision without unity of command.”

- ◆ Voluntary unity of vision (as opposed to command-driven) is episodic and unreliable.
 - ◆ Imagine if “pedestrians in a cross-walk have the right-of-way” was optional...
- A stylized, dark teal silhouette of a mountain range is positioned in the bottom right corner of the slide, partially overlapping the text area.

PREMISE 2: “There can be no unity of command because there is no unitary ‘we’. ”

- ◆ “Pronouns are important”
- ◆ There is no “interagency;” no “international community”
- ◆ Business Class lounge analogy
- ◆ “If the planet Mars was named for the God of War, then I’m guessing the planet Uranus was named for the God of Bureaucrats!”
