FOREWORD

This data element dictionary contains all of the data elements used in the major systems for handling Federal government scientific and technical reports; the systems involved are (in order of their appearance) those of the Department of Energy Technical Information Center (DOE/TIC), the Department of Defense Technical Information Center (DTIC), the Government Printing Office (GPO), the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Scientific and Technical Information Facility (NASA/STIF), and the National Technical Information Service (NTIS). All those elements, both substantive and "housekeeping" types, used in processing technical reports in each system are included in the compilation. Each record contains the element's definition, rules for use, the tags or indicators used internally, and those used externally for information interchange.

The work of selecting the data elements and collecting the information about them was accomplished by the individual agencies, in a project directed by Madeline M. Henderson, under contract to the NTIS. GPO offered the use of its computer facility for the compilation and for preparation of indexes to the individual dictionaries and to the combined lists. DTIC in turn prepared a keyword/KWOC index to the combined list of data element names.

The data element dictionary (DED) is a useful tool for the participating agencies, constituting current documentation of their systems, possibly in greater detail than heretofore available. The exercise of identifying and defining the elements in current use has been helpful to system managers and operating personnel. In addition, the DED will allow for comparison of data elements as they differ from one system to another, of the rules set forth for the same or similar elements in the different systems, and of the tags or indicators used to identify the elements in exchange procedures.

The DED can also be of interest and value to the users of the various systems described through the dictionary. This was one of the early reasons suggested by the Committee on Information Hangups in requesting consideration of the compilation of a data element dictionary. The compilation was seen as one step in investigating needs for better standards and protocols as a means for assisting in making the information systems more compatible. Users accessing the various systems, through online databases and also through printed indexes or catalogs, face a number of problems due to differences in the systems. The users can consult the DED to assist in developing search strategies for greater efficiency in trying to identify documents, and can compare the contents of the individual files in order to select the most pertinent sources.

However, this version of the DED is a first, preliminary draft, and represents the data elements used in the systems as of mid-1982. In order to expedite the availability of the document to users and other interested members of the community, the agencies decided to forgo even minor editing or updating. Readers are reminded of the preliminary nature of this dictionary, but also encouraged to use it for the files currently available.

The four agencies whose systems are based on COSATI rules (DOE/TIC, DTIC, NASA/STIP, and NTIS) have agreed to examine the data elements common to their systems, which constitute the core elements needed to identify a report, and attempt to resolve the differences in their rules and conventions for those elements. Any measure of success in this regard will, of course, change some of the entries in the DED and will result in preparation of a new edition of the DED. However, the effort should result in recommendations for enhancing common features and contributing to more efficient and less costly information exchange for the agencies. It should also mean improved access and resource sharing for the user community.

ELEMENT: TIC Item Identification Number

SOURCE AGENCY: DORS

USE: Mandatory

DEFN: The identification number used at the Technical Information Center (TIC) to follow an item through the processing cycle.

CONTENT: The cataloger enters a six-digit serial number for the first entry of the file; the input editor program increments the serial number by one for each succeeding entry. Two digits representing the year followed by two digits representing the month are added automatically to the beginning of the serial number later in the processing cycle, forming a ten-digit identification number.

Personal authors are entered as the last name, a comma, a space, an initial, a period, an initial, and a period, e.g., Cardozo, G.B. All diacritical marks are omitted; the German umlaut is converted to the vowel followed by an e. Additional authors are entered using the same format and separating them with a semicolon and a space. If there are multiple authors with different affiliations, the affiliation for the first author is entered after the last name, a space, a left parenthesis, the affiliation in full, a right parenthesis, a semicolon, and a space. Only abbreviations included in the RLC table of standard names and affiliation abbreviations should be used when entering an affiliation. Names of collaborations are entered as they appear in the source document; multiple collaborations are separated by a semicolon and a space.

ELEMENT: Accession Number

SOURCE AGENCY: DTIC

USE: Mandatory

DEFN: The accession number is a machine processing control number assigned uniquely to a technical report as soon as it has been determined by DTIC accessioning procedures that it is not a duplicate report.

CONTENT: The AD number is a 9 character datum composed of 3 alphas followed by 6 numerals. The first two alphas are "AD", the third alpha is a letter code to designate additional intelligence, and the following numerals constitute the sequence number assigned to the document, e.g., ADAM0233.

INTERNAL TAG: 01

CHARACTER SET: Alphanumeric

DATA SOURCE: Staff Standard

NOTES: The current meaning of AD is "accessioned document". A degree of intelligence is structured into the AD number at its initial assignment, to designate classified or unclassified reports and limited or unlimited distribution. Historically, these designations have changed periodically since the inception of AD number assignment. Display of the accession number may include the letter "L" as the 10th, last character, designating a limited distribution report, but currently this suffix item is machine, program-generated from Field 33, DISTRIBUTION/AVAILABILITY CODES. Machine storage of the AD number precludes retention of the AD designation for machine manipulation. Piquet display re-incorporates the AD designation.

ELZHEM1: Identifiers and Open-ended Terms

SOURCE AGENCY: DTIC

USE: Optional

DEFN: Identifiers are any single word or groups of words which refer to specific scientific or technical concepts (project names, code names, originator supplied key words, weapon systems, etc.). Open-ended terms are any single word or words used to express a concept of the technical report being submitted. Open-ended terms are used to identify subjects for which there are no identifiers or posting terms/descriptors available. Consequently, these terms are not in the controlled vocabulary.

COMMENT: No stated machine entry character limitation for a single term; total field entry of up to 1200 alphanumeric characters, each term entry separated by a comma. Currently, open-ended terms are assigned in Field 45 by DTIC data in the report, and these two types of terms are not distinguished either in input or in the on-line display (where they are both listed as identifiers). Currently, the character limitations of a term are dependent on the individual requirements of each program and display uses.

ELEMENT: Limitation Availability Codes / Distribution Availability Codes

SOURCE AGENCY: DTIC

USE: Mandatory

DEPN: The entry in this field represents a document's distribution control, availability limitation, and special coding for additional disclosure constraints. The codes for distribution and availability subrogate the narrative statement entered in Field 22 (Limitations (Alpha)/Distribution-Availability Statements) but without generating Field 22 information. The special codes generate additional disclosure constraint designations that are appended to the document classification.

CONTENT: One and two character numeric codes are entered with up to 3 codes employed as appropriate. The codes are used for inventory file control. Codes 1 through 17 represent documents distribution control, with entry of an appropriate distribution control code mandatory. Additionally, any distribution code representing limited distribution (3, 4, 5, 13, 14, 15, 16) machine-generates the letter L, suffixed to the accession number, meaning "limited". Codes 20 through 24 represent a document's availability limitation, usually its physical limitation, and in extension, its place of purchase if so designated. Codes 50 through 54 represent the special coding for additional information disclosure constraints.

ELEMENT: Document Location

SOURCE AGENCY: DTIC

USE: Mandatory

DEPN: When this data item was established, its original intention was to indicate by numeric code whether an AD document and microfiche were located at DTIC or at NTIS. The location appeared on direct file display by acronym, being converted from the code number. The code numbers (1 - NTIS, 2 - DTIC) were used for inventory file control. These two codes continue to be generated automatically through the AD number ranges.

CONTENT: For DTIC processed AD's (a) the AD number-generated code numbers go to the direct file and are converted to DTIC, NTIS or DTIC; (b) in the inventory file all 1's are converted to 2. Consequently, only code 2 is currently used in this file. With the expansion of the TK system to remote terminal input (IACs and SBIZ) the result, terminal sites have been assigned code numbers in conjunction with the AD number ranges assigned to those sites. However this field is invisible to the general public.

THE CARD NUMBER MAY ALSO CONTAIN A REVISION DATE, I.E., A DATE THAT SPECIFIED THE LATEST DATE THAT THE BIBLIOGRAPHIC DATA IN THE RECORD UNDERWENT A MAJOR CHANGE. THIS DATA, SEPARATED FROM THE CARD NUMBER BY TWO BLANKS (//), DOES NOT AFFECT THE UNIQUENESS OF THE CARD NUMBER. THE DATA CONSISTS OF A LOWERCASE "R", TWO DIGITS FOR THE YEAR OF REVISION, AND, IF THE CARD HAS NEVER BEEN REPRINTED MORE THAN ONCE, A DIGIT INDICATING THE NUMBER OF TIMES THE CARD HAS BEEN REPRINTED. SOURCE AGENCY: GPOS

DEFN: CONTAINS THE INTERNATIONAL STANDARD BOOK NUMBER (ISBN), TERMS OF AVAILABILITY, CANCELLED/INVALID ISBN, AND, IN SOME INSTANCES, BINDING INFORMATION.

CONTENT: AN ISBN CONSISTS OF 10 DIGITS SEPARATED INTO FOUR FUNCTIONAL PARTS AS FOLLOWS: 1) ONE OR MORE DIGITS TO IDENTIFY THE COUNTRY OR GROUP OF COUNTRIES IN WHICH THE ITEM WAS PUBLISHED; 2) TWO TO SEVEN DIGITS FOR THE PUBLISHER'S PREFIX; 3) ONE OR MORE DIGITS TO IDENTIFY A PARTICULAR TITLE AND TO EXPAND THE NUMBER TO NINE DIGITS; AND 4) A CHECK DIGIT FOR COMPUTER VALIDITY CHECK. SINCE THE CHECK DIGIT SYSTEM (MODULUS 11) SOMETIMES REQUIRES A CHECK DIGIT OF "10," IT IS NECESSARY TO CARRY THE ROMAN NUMERICAL "X" IN THE CHECK DIGIT POSITION FOR "10" TO STAY WITHIN THE LIMITATIONS OF 10 DIGITS. AACR2 1.8B1: GIVE THE INTERNATIONAL STANDARD BOOK NUMBER (ISBN) ... FOR THE ITEM BEING DESCRIBED. GIVE NUMBERS FOR PARTS IN THE ORDER OF THE PARTS. AACR2 1.8D1: GIVE THE TERMS ON WHICH THE ITEM IS AVAILABLE. THESE TERMS CONSIST OF THE PRICE (GIVEN IN NUMERICALS WITH STANDARD ABBREVIATIONS) IF THE ITEM IS FOR SALE, OR A BRIEF STATEMENT IF THE ITEM IS NOT FOR SALE. AACR2 1.8E1: AND AFTER THE STANDARD NUMBER OR TERMS OF AVAILABILITY, AS APPROPRIATE, A BRIEF QUALIFICATION (PRICE, BINDING INFORMATION) WHEN AN ITEM BEARS TWO OR MORE STANDARD NUMBERS AND WHEN THE TERMS OF AVAILABILITY NEED QUALIFICATION. AACR2 1.8E2: IF THERE IS NO STANDARD NUMBER, GIVE THE TERMS OF AVAILABILITY BEFORE ANY QUALIFICATION. THE SUBFIELD FOR THE CORRECT FORM OF A NUMBER IS ALWAYS GIVEN FIRST FOLLOWED BY ANY SUBFIELDS FOR CANCELLED OR INVALID FORMS, IF APPLICABLE. Example: 0400 The implementation on the STOLAND airborne digital computer of an optimum profile guidance system for the augmentor wind jet STOL research aircraft is described. Major tasks were to implement the guidance and control logic to airborne computer software and to integrate the module with the existing STOLAND navigation, display, and autopilot routines. The optimum profile guidance system comprises an algorithm for synthesizing minimum fuel trajectories for a wide range of starting positions in the terminal area and a control law for flying the aircraft automatically along the trajectory. The avionics software developed is described along with a FORTRAN program that was constructed to reflect the modular nature and algorithms implemented in the avionics software.

ELEMENT: Accession Number

SOURCE AGENCY: NTIS

USE: Mandatory

DEFN: A unique document number which is used to order the document from NTIS. Either NTIS assigns this number or the original report number assigned by the document submitting organization is used.

CONTENT: A variable length field (50 character maximum) containing one alphanumeric entry. The entry always has an alpha prefix (indicating the document's source agency) before the sequence number assigned to the document. An entry may include a check digit which consists of an additional slash at the end of the number followed by as many as four alphanumeric characters.

NOTES: (1) This data element is referred to as the "Document Number" on the NTIS sales tape. (2) The check digit allows the NTIS order processing system to verify that customers have not miswritten any of the digits in the accession number. (3) Alpha prefixes represent specific input agencies; those most used are: AD=Dept. of Defense (DOD); ED=Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC); FIPS=FBI Federal Information Processing Standards; HEP=National Health Planning Information Center; IIA=Dept. of Commerce-International Trade Administration; R=NASA; NUK=NUCLEAR Regulatory Commission; PS=Reports indexed, cataloged, and abstracted by NTIS for other agencies; PAT/PAT-APPL=U.S. Government owned patents/applications; SHR=Dept. of Health and Human Services-Project Share; and TT=Translations from the Special Foreign Currency Science Information Program.

ELEMENT: NTIS Subject Category Codes

SOURCE AGENCY: NTIS

USE: Mandatory

DEFN: Codes which classify document content by subject fields. Each document is normally assigned from 1 to 3 codes from the COSATI Subject Classification Scheme and from 0 to 4 codes from the NTIS Subject Classification Scheme.

CONTENT: A variable length field (100 character maximum) containing alphanumeric codes with 3 or 4 characters each. Each 3 character code is composed of two numerics representing a broad subject category, one alpha designating a sub-category within the broad subject category; the four character code is essentially a 3 character code followed by an asterisk for highlighting purposes. The field begins with the prefix "FLB" and multiple entries are separated by comma-space character pairs. COSATI codes range from 01-22 and NTIS codes range from 43-99.

NOTES: (1) This data element is referred to as the "Subject Category Fields" on the NTIS sales tape. (2) The COSATI Subject Classification scheme is two-level in construction, consisting of 22 major subject fields (categories) with a further subdivision in 178 groups (subcategories). It has been used since 1964 to arrange reports in the GOVERNMENT REPORTS ANNOUNCEMENTS AND INDEX. (3) The NTIS Subject Classification scheme was developed in 1970 to be used in conjunction with COSATI. It provides useful sorting categories for both hard and soft sciences in the NTIS Abstract Newsletters and the SELECTED RESEARCH IN MICROFILMS (SRIS) products. The scheme was expanded several times and currently contains 39 major categories which are further subdivided in 312 subcategories. (4) When NTIS highlights a document because of its potential "higher than average interest", an asterisk will appear as the fourth character of the subject code.

REMARKS: NTIS In-Mouse Control Codes

SOURCE AGENCY: NTIS

USE: Mandatory

DEFIN: A series of codes used to control various features of document processing and announcement by NTIS publications programs. These codes represent such data items as foreign languages, countries of intellectual origin, and special data base retrieval indicators used in connection with retrospective on-line searches.

CONTENT: A variable length field (150 character maximum) beginning with "u" and followed by a series of alphanumeric and alphabetic codes. The field always ends with one or two alphabetic codes usually containing from 6-10 characters which always starts with "NTIS".

NOTES: (1) This field always contains the constant "(U)" on the NTIS Sales Tape. (2) Some of the NTIS In-Mouse Control Codes are frequently added or changed and are not supported for non-NTIS use. (3) The data base retrieval code(s) located at the end of Field 3 are added to the end of Field 25 (Identifiers) on the NTIS Sales Tape by the computer.

SOURCE AGENCY: NTIS

USE: If available

DEFN: A code representing a monetary value that NTIS charges its customers for documents (on paper copy and microfiche) and computer products (on magnetic tape) in the NTIS collection. If the item is a reprint or is not available for sale through NTIS, an appropriate message will appear in this field in lieu of a price code.

CONTENT: A variable length field (120 character maximum) beginning with the prefix "NTIS Prices" and followed by 3-character codes or a text message. Each 3-character code consists of one alpha (A, E, M, or T) indicating various price schedules and products, two numerics indicating price code ranges. For documents, there will be two codes separated by a colon-space; the first code is preceded by the alpha "PC" meaning the paper copy price and the second code preceded by the alpha "MF" meaning the microform price. Magnetic tapes receive one code that is preceded by the alpha "CP" meaning the computer products price. The most common text message messages that appear in this field are the alphas "Not available NTIS" and "reprints".

(2) Paper copy prices charged by NTIS are usually based on the number of pages in a report; microfiche prices are usually a set amount no matter how many pages are contained in the document (3) For a current price code conversion table, North American customers should refer to NTIS-PN-360-3; all other customers should refer to NTIS-PN-360-4.

DEFN: This multipurpose field is infrequently used for generalized information on a set of documents announced by EYIS in a "compressed entry" format. Such information includes the set's accession number, price codes, title, compass date, and number of volumes or issues. The field receives more frequent use in holding a special source number for any document that has the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) as its corporate author, sponsor, or monitor.

CONTENT: A variable length field (600 character maximum) divided into 8 subfields when used. A subfield is separated by a percent sign (%) with no punctuation after the last subfield.
