SUBJECT: Keyword Cross Reference for HQDA staff narratives and JULLS Reports for Operations Desert Shield and Storm.

1. This keyword cross reference is provided for additional information and use.
2. Mr Robert McConnell of the US Army Concepts Analysis Agency (USACAA) Force Evaluation Directorate built this cross reference to support the USACAA Desert Shield/Desert Storm Study Team effort. This cross reference is an expansion of Appendix I, Report References(U), found in Volume II of the Headquarters, Department of the Army Desert Shield/Desert Storm After Action Report (CAA-SR-91-18). The cross reference locates references in the twenty-one DA Staff Narratives and over one thousand Joint Universal Lessons Learned System (JULLS) reports collected in the After Action Report. This cross reference has been used to build Appendix I, Report References of the After Action Report.
3. This cross reference, available on diskettes, can be used with a personal computer database management system. ASCII, dBASE III, and Enable 2.15 file diskette and instructions will be provided on request. Requests for diskette should be sent to

	KEYWORD CROSS-REFERENCE FOR HQDA AFTER ACTION REPORT FOR OPERATIONS DESERT SHIELD AND DESERT STORM	SUMMARY CAA-TP-91-8
---	---	--------------------------------

THE PROJECT SPONSOR is the Director, US Army Concepts Analysis Agency (CAA).

ABSTRACT. The Headquarters, Department of the Army (HQDA) Desert Shield/Desert Storm After Action Report documents the HQDA overview of actions taken during, and issues resulting from, Headquarters, Department of the Army operations in support of Operations Desert Shield and Desert Storm (August 1990-August 1991) in Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, and Iraq.

This cross-reference contains over 8,000 keyword entries to help the user locate references in the HQDA staff narratives and Joint Universal Lessons Learned System (JULLS) reports. Entries are listed in alphabetical order of key word or phrase. Each entry has a key word or phrase, source (narrative or JULLS), organization office symbol, and page number. Narratives are found in Volume II, Section XIII, of the After Action Report; JULLS are located in Volume III of the After Action Report.

An example of cross-reference use is shown in the After Action Report at Appendix I, Report References.

The cross-reference can be used as a printed document, but may be more helpful when used on a microcomputer. MS-DOS versions of the data base for dBase III and Enable 2.15 are available on request to CAA. An ASCII version of the data base from which users can load files for other data base packages is also available.

KEYWORD CROSS-REFERENCE FOR HQDA STAFF AFTER ACTION NARRATIVES AND JULLS REPORTS FOR OPERATIONS DESERT SHIELD AND DESERT STORM

INTRODUCTION. This keyword cross-reference provides two types of results. First, it provides an explanation of how the reference list was created for Appendix I of the Headquarters, Department of the Army (HQDA) After Action Report (CAA-SR-91-18). Second, it provides a quick way to locate references to HQDA staff after action narratives and lessons learned from Operations Desert Shield and Desert Storm independent of the text in CAA-SR-91-18.

BACKGROUND. Desert Shield and Desert Storm are examples of the most likely contingencies that US military forces and multinational coalitions will fight in the future. Because of this likelihood, it is essential that the findings, observations, and lessons to be learned from this historic conflict be captured and addressed.

Accordingly, a team of eight officers was recalled from retirement to gather and analyze information and assemble the report. Their report accomplishes three goals:

- a. It identifies positive and negative observations involving HQDA's role in supporting Operations Desert Shield and Desert Storm.
- b. It places these observations within a framework of time, mission, and function.
- c. It identifies positive and negative observations warranting detailed review by HQDA.

To accomplish these three goals, the team collected 21 HQDA After Action Reports (narratives), over 1,000 reports from the Joint Universal Lessons Learned System (JULLS), and a variety of other relevant documents. In addition, the team has conducted numerous interviews with principal HQDA staff officers who were involved with staff procedures during the operations.

The team organized, digested, and analyzed these documents and interviews, and produced a lucid compendium of issues and observations in a three-volume set under CAA-SR-91-18: Volume I - Executive Summary; Volume II - Main Report and Staff Narratives; and Volume III - JULLS reports. This compendium gives an insightful view of the strengths and shortcomings of the Army's strategic organizations, operations, and systems. For each observation/insight developed by the team in its overview, there is a reference list in Appendix I citing the source document and page number. This cross-reference list is an explanation of how that reference list was developed. It is an alphabetical listing of keywords and phrases chosen by the author with page references to the HQDA Staff Narratives and JULLS reports.

PURPOSE. The purpose of the paper is twofold: (1) to display how references were developed for the report and (2) to assist independent searches for references in the Staff Narratives and JULLS reports. Each line of the index contains four items: a key phrase, a source (NARRATIVE or JULLS), an office symbol, and page number. The index is arranged in alphabetical order by key phrase. Narratives are found in Volume II of the study team report; JULLS are found in Volume III. Office symbol and page refer to the page numbering system found in Volumes II and III.

LIMITATIONS. All key entries are unclassified and are limited to 35 characters in length. The number of entries is not a limitation.

ASSUMPTIONS. Sufficient keywords and phrases were chosen for effective use of the data base. (If the data base is used on a personal computer, it can be modified or other entries added to the data base. However, users should be aware that adding sensitive information makes the data base classified.)

METHODOLOGY. This project entailed designing a data base, reading each HQDA staff after action report (narrative) and JULLS report, selecting keywords and phrases from the report, and then entering those keywords and phrases to a data base. The data base was then tested by extracting the references shown in Appendix I of the study team report. In many cases, the original key phrases were expanded to increase conciseness.

USE THE INDEX ON YOUR PC. Use the index in its paper form or, for faster response or personal tailoring, use it on a personal computer. CAA has ASCII, dBase III, and Enable files of the keyword cross-reference for use on MS-DOS computers. dBase III and Enable software packages can handle this 8,000 record data base; users of other data base software should ensure that their software has sufficient capacity. Also, users of other data base software should ensure that their software lets them do searches on partial keys from left to right; e.g., users should be able to access all entries dealing with communications by searching for the string "COMM". Finally, users need about 900 kilobytes of disk storage space to work efficiently with the index.

Copies of the data base and instructions for its use are available from:
