IN REPLY REFER TO:

TO RECIPIENTS OF THE 1946 DIGEST

In accordance with AAF Letter 5-3 dated 28 April 1947, the Army Air Forces Statistical Digest has been designated as the official AAF statistical yearbook. As such, it should contain a comprehensive coverage of all phases of activity, strength and operations. While this office is endeavoring to achieve that goal through continuous research and study, it is felt that statistics on many topics included in the present issue are incomplete and warrant more detailed exposition.

Since the Digest is designed primarily as a reference manual, the reaction of users to its contents is important in the planning of future editions. Recipients of this volume are requested to submit comments, criticisms, corrections and, with respect to the broad objectives of the Digest and their own general needs, suggestions for increasing or refining the range of material covered. These suggestions should include new material, sources and availability of such material and recommendations for the elimination of material now shown. All comments should be forwarded not later than 31 October 1947 to:

Headquarters, Army Air Forces
Office of Air Comptroller
Statistical Control Division (AFBSC-1C)
Washington 25, D.C.

INTRODUCTION

Army Air Forces Statistical Digest summarizes the great volume of statistical information collected and published by the various offices in Headquarters, AAF and certain AAF commands. The more important data on the many activities and operations of the AAF are brought together on a uniform basis to serve as an official and basic reference manual for the Army Air Forces, War Department and other interested Government agencies.

The 1946 edition of the Digest is designed to be the first in an annual series, and each issue will be revised to meet current needs and to bring the many series up to date. Previous editions - Army Air Forces Statistical Digest (World War II) and Supplement Number 1 thereto - made available summary statistics on World War II and on selected subjects for 1945, respectively. The present issue includes the majority of the tables carried in the earlier volumes with the exception of the section on World War II combat operations. Historical continuity has been preserved, and each series has been brought forward through 1946.

Continuing research in the sources and validity of the data has, in several instances, effected major changes and extended the data to cover earlier periods. Several revisions, both in content and format, have been made during the preparation of this issue. For example, the many reorganizations and regroupings of commands preclude the continuity in any series on personnel information by command. To overcome the changes in command structure, a new box head has been introduced at the appropriate date. By this device, reorganization changes become more readily apparent. Where a command has merely undergone a change in name as in the case of Air Materiel Command - from Air Technical Service Command - the newest name is utilized generally throughout the series.

In addition, several new tables have been added. The new series cover such topics as Negro flying training, foreign flying students trained by the AAF, Negro and Women's Army Corps personnel by command, accessions and separations of civilian personnel (total and with veteran's preference) and graded and ungraded civilian personnel in the Personnel and Training section; deliveries of aircraft engines by plant and model, airplane procurement programs, unit cost of aircraft engines, acceptances of gliders and special purpose aircraft by model, storage space at Air Materiel Command installations, aircraft engines on hand, aircraft engine operating hours between major overhauls, disposition of airplanes excess to military requirements in the section on Aircraft and Equipment; medical air evacuation operations of the Air Transport Command, value and number of contract terminations by type of contract, disposition of surplus property (excluding aircraft), hospital admissions of military personnel and accidents on the ground in the Miscellaneous section.

Sources of the majority of the data are the many publications and unpublished records of Statistical Control Division. The tabulations which were furnished by other offices in Headquarters, AAF or AAF commands are annotated as to source. Tables containing no source reference are those supplied by Statistical Control Division.

Criticisms and suggestions for future editions of the Digest should be addressed to Headquarters, Army Air Forces, Office of Air Comptroller, Statistical Control Division, The Pentagon, Washington 25, D.C.

DEFINITIONS

AAF Center

AAF Tactical Center and Proving Ground Command. Prior to June 1945 these two were separate commands.

Acceptance, airplane

Receipt of legal title by the resident factory representative of the procuring agency.

Accident, aircraft

An event, involving one or more military aircraft, that occurs while the aircraft is engaged in any phase of aerial flight including take-off and landing runs, taxiing, or while the aircraft is on the ground and power plant is in operation (except maintenance operation - servicing, repair, etc.) and which results in death or injury to persons or damage to the aircraft.

Accident, aircraft, major

An accident which results in death or major injury to persons or major damage to the aircraft. Major injury is that which will probably require hospitalization for a period of five or more days or results in unconsciousness, fractures (except simple finger or toe fractures), lacerations of muscles or which cause hemorrhages, internal lesions and burns involving more than five percent of body surface or involving less than five percent if to the second or third degrees. Major damage includes damage to such parts of the aircraft as landing gear, wings, fuselage, stabilizers and power plant to the extent that the part must undergo major repair or be replaced.

Accident, aircraft, minor

An accident which results in minor injury to persons or minor damage to the aircraft. Minor injury is less severe than major injury as defined above and requires that military personnel be reported on the daily sick report as sick in quarters or hospital, or in the case of civilian personnel, loss of regular working time beyond the work-day on which the accident occurred. Minor damage is such damage as to make the aircraft unsafe for flight but not damage so great as to be classified major damage as defined above.

Aircraft

Any type of airplane, glider or aerial target.

Airframe weight

Empty weight of an airplane less the following government furnished equipment: engines, propellers, wheels, brakes, tires and tubes, auxiliary power plant, turbo-superchargers, radio receivers and transmitters, starters, batteries, generators, turrets and power-operated gun mounts.

Airplane, combat

Any type of bomber, fighter or reconnaissance airplane.

Airplane, first-line

One suited to perform the mission for which it was originally intended. Generally applied to combat airplanes.

Airplane, military

One produced for the use of the armed forces or a commercial airplane seating twelve or more passengers.

Airplane, miscellaneous

One employed for such non-tactical purpose as administrative or training flights.

Airplane, second-line

One no longer considered operational due to such factors as age or obsolescence. Generally applied to combat airplanes.

Alaska

Alaskan Air Command. Eleventh Air Force during World War II.

Caribbean Air Command

Prior to August 1946 Sixth Air Force and Antilles Air Command. Beginning in August, these commands combined to form Caribbean Air Command.

Caribbean Area

See Caribbean Air Command.

China Area

India-Burma Theater, Tenth and Fourteenth Air Forces until inactivated overseas, XI Bomber Command (except where Twentieth Air Force is shown separately) during its period of operations in the area; Air Division, Nanking Headquarters Command.

Cognizance

Responsibility for negotiating for and inspecting aircraft or other materiel.

Continental Air Forces

First, Second, Third and Fourth Air Forces and Troop Carrier Command. In existence from March 1945 through February 1946.

Delivery, airplane, engine or propeller

Transfer of possession from the resident representative of the procuring agency to a representative of the Air Transport Command, a public carrier or other transporting agency.

Engine, installed

An engine mounted in an aircraft or only temporarily removed from minor repair with the intent of return to the aircraft from which removed.

Engine, spare

An engine not installed in an aircraft. Spare engines are divided into two categories: a) serviceable - those engines ready for installation without undergoing overhaul, repair or modification, and b) reparable - engines which can be made serviceable by overhaul.

Enlisted personnel

Enlisted personnel and aviation cadets, unless shown separately.

European Area

European and Mediterranean Theaters.

European Theater

During World War II, Eighth Air Force, Ninth

European Theater -- Continued

Air Force (beginning October 1943), First Tactical Air Force (Provisional), Headquarters, US Strategic Air Forces (USSTAF). US Air Forces in Europe (USAFE) after the War.

Far East Air Forces

Fifth and Thirteenth Air Forces and Seventh Air Force and Air Forces in Middle Pacific beginning July 1945. Included in Pacific Air Command, US Army beginning December 1945.

Mediterranean Theater

During World War II, Twelfth and Fifteenth Air Forces; also Ninth Air Force prior to October 1943. Subsequent to World War II, miscellaneous AAF units assigned to theater.

Non-specialists

Basic soldiers, laborers, duty soldiers and unclassified personnel.

Officer

Commissioned officer, Flight Officer and Warrant Officer, unless shown separately.

Other Arms and Services

Adjutant General, Armored Force, Cavalry Coast Artillery, Field Artillery, General Staff, Infantry, Inspector General, Judge Advocate General, Military Intelligence, and in the case of enlisted personnel, students in Army Service Forces schools.

Other Continental US

Commanding General, AAF, Bolling Field Command unless shown separately, or otherwise noted. In the case of military personnel, personnel enroute to or at departure points and beginning June 1945, personnel enroute to overseas (prior to June 1945, in the overseas theater to which enroute).

Other Flying Training Courses

Emergency Air Rescue Crew, B-32 Combat Crew, Flight Planning, Observation Non-Pilot, courses in War Training Service Schools.

Other Overseas

Africa Middle East Theater, Bermuda, Iceland, Newfoundland, the Azores, Greenland, US Air Forces in South America, Commanding General, AAF (Foreign), Air Transport Command (Foreign), unless shown separately or otherwise noted.

Other Specialists

Primarily photographic, weather and mess personnel.

Other Technical Training Courses

Auto Mechanic, Clerk-Typist, Cook and Baker, Counter Intelligence, Link Trainer Mechanic, Mess Sergeant, Military Police (Aviation), Parachute Rigger and Repairman, Supply Clerk and Teletype Operator and Mechanic.

Pacific Air Command, US Army

Far East Air Forces, Pacific Ocean Areas, US Army Strategic Air Forces (USASTAF). This command established in December 1945.

Pacific Area

Pacific Air Command, US Army; prior to December 1945, includes Far East Air Forces, Pacific Ocean Areas; US Army Strategic Air Forces (USASTAF) after June 1945 and XXI Bomber Command prior to July 1945.

Pacific Ocean Areas

Seventh Air Force prior to July 1945 and Air Forces in Middle Pacific (AIRFORMIDPAC) beginning July 1945. Included in Far East Air Forces beginning July 1945.

Propeller, controllable

A variable pitch propeller as opposed to one with fixed pitch.

Tactical Unit

Any bomber, fighter, reconnaissance, troop carrier, emergency rescue, liaison, geodetic control or tow target unit.

Training, flying, advanced

Training given to pilots subsequent to basic training and consisting of further military, ground and flying instructions, the latter in trainer aircraft more powerful than those previously used.

Training, flying, basic

Training given to pilots subsequent to primary training and consisting of further military and ground instruction and a specified number of hours in trainer aircraft more powerful than those used in primary training.

Training, flying, pre-flight

The initial training given to pilots, bombardiers and navigators to acquaint them with the fundamentals of flight.

Training, flying, primary

Training given to pilots subsequent to pre-flight training and consisting of military instruction, academic instruction in ground school and a specified number of hours of instruction in a single-engine trainer airplane.

Training, flying, transition

Training given to pilots subsequent to advanced training and designed to teach them to fly a specific model of airplane.

Twentieth Air Force

IX and XXI Bomber Commands. The term "Twentieth Air Force" is retained after June 1945 even though a reorganization established the US Army Strategic Air Forces - Eighth and Twentieth Air Forces (formerly, IX and XXI Bomber Commands, respectively). Included in Pacific Air Command beginning December 1945.

1. TACTICAL UNITS

Statistics on the number of tactical groups and separate squadrons presented in this section include only those units which were actually activated prior to or on the dates shown; i.e., units for which activation or inactivation orders had not been accomplished by the dates shown. This criterion for the number of units on hand as well as exhaustive research has effected many changes in the figures published previously in the World War II Digest. In addition, the method of presentation differs radically from the latter. In the following pages, the figures immediately preceding the parentheses indicate the number of groups as measured by the activations of group headquarters, while the figures within the parentheses represent the number of squadrons assigned to those groups. Such units as replacement training and parent operational training units which were included in the World War II Digest are now excluded. The number of separate squadrons are presented for the first time.

Since the end of World War II, the composition of groups and squadrons has changed considerably. In numerous instances reduced strength Tables of Organization and Equipment (T/O & E) are in operation, and such units as Heavy and Medium Bombardment and Twin Engine Fighter Groups have been inactivated or converted to another type of airplane. The most usual composition of tactical units, in planes and personnel, as of 31 December 1946 is shown in the following table:

a/ Number of airplanes and crews and total personnel vary according to area in which deployed. Number of men per crew is the same as for corresponding types shown in table. An OA-10 crew consists of seven men.

In the above table the organization of reconnaissance squadrons rather than that of reconnaissance groups is shown because the group can be composed of more than one type of squadron. The usual make-up of a group comprises a group headquarters, consisting of 22 officers and 60 enlisted men, and three squadrons.

Troop Carrier groups include Combat Cargo groups during the war period. The latter, deployed in the Pacific and amounting to a maximum of four, were combined with Troop Carrier because of relative similarity of mission and composition. Air Commando groups are included in Composite groups.

Continental US includes units enroute to overseas. Units enroute to US from overseas are included in the overseas area from which they were enroute. Caribbean Area, as used in this section, includes Sixth Air Force, Antilles Air Command and Atlantic Bases (Iceland, Greenland, Azores, etc.).

2. PERSONNEL AND TRAINING

All figures on military personnel shown in this section are assigned strength figures and are concerned solely with those personnel chargeable to the AAF Troop Basis.

National Guard and Reserve personnel are included only when on active duty. Arms and Services personnel on duty with the AAF (ASWAAF) are first shown in September 1941. While such personnel were on duty with the Air Corps prior to that date - for example, flight surgeons - the data available have been of such an incomplete nature that Air Corps personnel only are shown prior to that date.

Where statistics on Negro and Women's Army Corps personnel are shown separately, these data should not be added to those in tables with comparable titles in order to arrive at total AAF figures. The latter tables already include WAC and Negro personnel.

Foreign flying students are not included in the figures on flying training but are shown separately.

Table 7.-- AAF MILITARY PERSONNEL -- NUMBER AND PERCENT OF US ARMY STRENGTH: 1907 TO 1946

Note.--Annual strength figures are as of 30 June except as noted. The history of the AAF falls into several well defined phases. On 1 August 1907 the Aeronautical Division of the Signal Corps was established, and this division continued until 1 July 1914 when it was reorganized as the Aviation Section of the Signal Corps. In May 1918 Army aviation was divorced from the Signal Corps by Presidential order and comprised the Division of Military Aeronautics, Bureau of Aircraft Production and the Spruce Section which had been organized in November 1917. (The latter was created to expedite lumber production for aircraft construction.) Legislative cognizance of a separate arm occurred on 4 June 1920 when the Air Service was created. The Air Corps was established in July 1926 and continued until the reorganization of the Army in March 1942. At that time, the Army Air Forces as now constituted came into being.

Table 69.-- FACTORY DELIVERIES OF ALL MILITARY AIRCRAFT ENGINES, BY PLANT, BY MODEL AND BY UNIT HORSEPOWER: 1940 TO 1946

Note.-- Unit horsepower is take-off horsepower except for those models marked with an asterisk, in which case it is sea level horsepower. Horsepower is shown in parentheses after each model. Excludes jet propelled engines which are shown in Table 70 Also excluded are engines manufactured for use in tanks.

Table 73.-- AVERAGE UNIT COST OF AIRPLANES AUTHORIZED, BY PRINCIPAL MODEL: FISCAL YEARS 1939 to 1946

Note.--Average cost per airplane is the weighted average on all programs approved during a designated fiscal year and represents the estimated cost of a complete airplane ready for flyaway, including factory installed ordnance and radio equipment. Costs exclude equipment installed at modification centers and airplane spare parts. Unit costs reflect renegotiation of contracts only to the extent of reductions in contract prices for future deliveries but do not reflect reductions in price effected by cash refunds.

MAR 1944 TO DEC 1946

Note.-- In thousands of square feet. Gross covered space is computed from all inside dimensions of warehouses and sheds. Net covered space excludes offices, rest rooms, aisles and receiving, shipping and packing areas. Storage space of open hard surfaced and unsurfaced areas includes square feet actually occupied.

Table 105.-- FLYING TIME OF AIRPLANES IN CONTINENTAL US, BY TYPE AND PRINCIPAL MODEL OF AIRPLANE:
QUARTERLY, 1943 AND 1944; MONTHLY, 1945 AND 1946

Note.--In thousands of hours. Due to the rounding of figures to the nearest 1,000 hours, the totals of quarterly or monthly flying time - by type and model of airplane - may not necessarily equal annual flying time by type and model. Similarly, flying time by model may not equal figures shown by type; total flying time in any period may not equal flying time by type.

Table 113.-- GASOLINE CONSUMPTION OF AIRPLANES OVERSEAS, BY TYPE AND PRINCIPAL MODEL OF AIRPLANE: DEC 1941; QUARTERLY, 1942 TO 1944; MONTHLY, 1945 AND 1946

Note.-- In thousands of gallons. The data below do not equal the sum of those for individual overseas areas published elsewhere in this volume. Consumption of airplanes assigned to special projects overseas are included here but not in any individual area. Air Transport Command figures are not included, and prior to September 1945, consumption is that for only first line bombers and fighters with combat units. Due to the rounding of figures to the nearest 1,000 gallons, the totals of quarterly or monthly consumption - by type and model of airplane - may not necessarily equal annual consumption by type and model. Similarly, consumption by model may not equal figures shown by type; consumption in any period may not equal that by type.

Table 131.-- DIRECT CASH APPROPRIATIONS AND EXPENDITURES FROM DIRECT APPROPRIATIONS: FISCAL YEARS
1899 TO 1947

Note.-- Expenditures differ from appropriations since funds appropriated for one year may be spent in that year, in subsequent years or never spent. This table covers "direct" appropriations and expenditures only - i.e. for aircraft, aviation gasoline etc. - and excludes amounts spent by the technical services - Signal, Ordnance, Quartermaster, Finance, etc. - for the benefit of Army aviation.

Table 134.-- DISPOSITION OF SURPLUS PROPERTY (EXCLUDING AIRCRAFT) IN CONTINENTAL US -- VALUE OF ITEMS DECLARED, DISPOSED AND PENDING ACTION, BY TYPE OF PROPERTY: SEP 1945 TO DEC 1946

Note.-- In thousands of dollars. Declarations comprise items for which formal notification as surplus has been forwarded to the disposal agency (primarily War Assets Administration). Items awaiting action are those which have been determined surplus and for which declarations have not been made. Disposition by the AAF includes transfer to other Army Components and other Government agencies, donations to institutions, transfer to salvage officers for disposition as scrap or small lots, abandonment or destruction, sale to contractors. Direct disposition is made without declaration to the disposal agency. Items withdrawn by the AAF are those which have been declared but for various reasons are later withdrawn from surplus.

Table 135.-- ADMISSIONS OF MILITARY PERSONNEL TO HOSPITALS AND QUARTERS IN CONTINENTAL US, BY CAUSE --
NUMBER AND RATE: JUL 1943 TO DEC 1946

Note.-- Admissions include direct admissions to hospitals and quarters and cases carded for record only. In the latter category are deaths and discharges for disability of personnel not patients and venereal disease cases treated on an outpatient basis. In the case of admissions for a specific disease, the number of cases may include patients among whom the specific condition was not the primary cause of admission or was discovered while the patient was being treated for other conditions. However, a patient would be counted only once under the general classifications of "All Causes", "Disease" and "Injury". Rates are per 1,000 men per year and show the number of admissions that would occur during a year if the number of cases per 1,000 in the reporting period were the same for all periods in the year.

a/ Medical statistics are reported on a weekly basis as of midnight Friday, and the periods shown are not calendar months but 4 or 5 week periods, depending on the number of Fridays in one month.

b/ Average daily strength during report period. These figures will not agree with personnel figures shown elsewhere in this volume since the latter are generally end of month figures.
